

How does your building use energy?

Re:form energy use in buildings using our Free tool

Learn more

Optimise energy consumption in your building

RE:FORM

is an innovative web based decision-making application.

Result of the Umbrella EU project, it overcomes barriers to sustainable buildings via energy modelling and most promising business models coming from functional economy and best practices.

The Umbrella project targets 2% of the EU building stock within 5 years of commercialisation and saves 3Mtoe per year.

Suitable to every type of building, whether it is private, public, residential, office, new, retrofit, in-use etc.

Set your preferences

Receive customised energy efficiency measures

Visualise energy savings

Select professional building services

Choose preferred options

Get tailored business models, tips and financing models

PARTNERS

